Just a Little Smile

A Mistake.

An impertinent inspector who was visiting a provincial school was much worried by the noise of the scholars in the next room. At length, unable to bear the uproar any longer, he opened the door and burst upon the class. Seeing one boy taller than the others talking a great deal, he caught him by the collar, hustled him to the next room, and placed him in a chair, saying:

"Now sit there and be quiet!"

Ten minutes later a small head appeared round the door and a weak little voice said:

"Please, sir, you've got our teacher!"

Thorough Anyhow.

Fair One—I hear your sister gave up making to be a carpenter engaged in war work.

The Kid—Yes, but she was so slow they dropped her.

Fair One—You don't say?

The Kid—She thought she had her old job and tried to manufacture every nail.

Bright Prospects.

"An optimistic young man asked me the other day for permission to marry my daughter," said Mr. Grabovick.

"Yes?"

"When I told him she spent ten thousand dollars a year on clothes alone, he said he feared that her trousseau would last until he could work up to a salary of twelve or fifteen thousand dollars a year."

MORE THAN ONE.

Her Dad—No, sir; I won't have my daughter tied down for life to a stupid fool.

Her Sutter—Then don't you think you'd better let me take her off your hands.

Summer Travel.

A man once took a holiday. He worked like mad to get away; And then was kept upon the rack In terror of the journey back.

Civil Service Examination.

Wife—How did Mr. Billings manage to pass that examination which you failed in?

Hubbard—Billings took his two little boys with him, and the boys coached him. They had only left school a few weeks.—Pearson's.

Speaking of Religion.

Billie—Well, there's one thing I can say. I never made a clerk of my religion.

Bertha—No, dear, there's not enough of it for that. Might be enough, perhaps, to make a pocket handkerchief.

Plankville Society.

"Do you want a bit of society news?" "I please."

"You know the lady you stated was coming to visit me last week?" "Yes, indeed."

"She's gone."

A Success Indeed.

"Were your wife's new clothes a success?" "I should say so. Made her look almost as fine as the girl who tried them on for us in the store."

Tripping Her.

She—You interest me strangely—as no other man ever has.

Officer on Leave—You sprang that on the last night.

She—Oh, was it you?

Terrors of the Scottish Language.

Housemaid in Glasgow's Hotel—Ye canna gang in the bathroom the noo.

Sesame—Why not?

Housemaid—There's a body in the bath.—Punch.

Nothing to Say.

"Hilda, tell the cook not to burn the steak the way she does."

"I wouldn't dare to, Harold. She likes it that way."

Its Definition.

Young Bride—I wonder why they call a wife's allowance pin money?

Old Matron—Because the average husband thinks money enough to buy pins to hold her old clothes together is all a wife needs.

Stoppage.

"What's the matter with that automobile?" asked the policeman.

"I dunno," replied Mr. Chuggins.

"Every time it gets to a street car track it thinks it has a right to lay off and obstruct traffic the same as if it was a part of the company's regular rolling stock."

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotics, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the body which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying power are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians in that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrup and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics.

Custoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Genuine Custoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

MOTHERS! CROUP AND WHOOPING COUGH ARE ALWAYS DANGEROUS

The Following Treatment is Recommended by the Highest Authorities.

Give the child at once a quarter of a teaspoonful of Senorec. All good druggists have this. In a minute the little patient will feel a gentle glow throughout the throat and chest and the choking, rattling matter will be easily coughed up and expelled.

It's simply wonderful how quickly the choked rattling goes away, and all mothers who have children suffer from croup, whooping cough and colds, know this. I will save you many anxious moments. Senorec never fails and every doctor in the country recommends it on the money back guarantee plan. No try at all or your money back. All druggists can supply you.

"WAKE UP, AMERICA"

Patriotic Lecture Will Be Given at High School Monday.

More thrilling than the most heroic of movie dramas, yet true in every particular are the scenes pictured in the great patriotic war lecture, "Wake Up, America," which will be given at Connelville high school auditorium, Monday, June 3 at 8 and 9 P. M. The lecture is to be under the auspices of the Red Cross and Navy League. The lecture is just what its name implies, a call to loyal, but very going, people to awake to the danger that threatens, and to realize the tremendous magnitude of the task to which our country has set herself.

Voile Frocks for the Little Miss

The little miss anywhere from five to twelve or thirteen years old finds herself remembered this season with many pretty dresses of fine cotton voile. Designers, who make her needs their special care, understand all the points of advantage of this dainty and durable material, as well as mothers who have tried it out and proved its worth. It is soft and sheer and not even glancing stands up better under wear and washing. It is worth while doing embroidery and fancy needlework on it and these are the sort of embellishments that look best on children's clothes.

Needlework in smoothing, feather designs, done in colored threads on white or light-colored cottons, has had the lion's share of attention this season. Two or three colors in the embroidery are often used together and little touches of black stitches are sometimes introduced. Embroidered designs are very simple and they appear in all sorts of frocks from glenham to silk, varying in character to suit the age of the child. Every collection of children's frocks will show a line and colored threads feature the display is representative of season's styles.

Here are two views of a dress girl anywhere from seven to 11 years old. It is made of white, with smoothing in colored embroidery, arranged in points where the is set on the bodice. Only one is used and the same silk outline turnover collar and plain cuffs v simple chain-stitch in tiny hoops (one, covered with voile, are or with long stitches of the color and fasten down short lengths of velvet ribbon. These are to be off when the frock is washed, collar and cuffs may be made of wash satin and in this case the tens are to be covered with it. A skirt has a three-inch hem and fullness at the front and has pressed into pleats. Rather 1 inch shades of pink or blue are in the smoothing.

Mr. Robert Williams, Galesburg, Mo., December 27th, 1917.

Dear Sir:

You are right when you say in yours of December 25th that Senorec is a remarkably good tooth paste and that it has a strong story to tell, but the difficulty lies in putting that story in such language as will convince the public.

The Senorec story of a medicinal paste that not only cleanses the teeth but also keeps mouth and gums healthy, when put on paper does not sound very different from the story of just any ordinary dentifrice.

For that reason we make every effort to get the people to try Senorec. After that Senorec tells its own story — and finally 90% of them are Senorec users and boosters from then on.

There is a Senorec user in Pittsburgh who has introduced our product into the families of thirty-four of his friends. Enthusiasm is not entirely. Simply a case of Senorec making good. It is just as stated above. If they will try Senorec — if they once become acquainted with a real dentifrice — with what a dentifrice can and should be — they are Senorec boosters from that time on.

Your druggist or toilet counters can supply you with Senorec. It comes in large, two ounce tubes and retail at 25c.

Why not get a tube to-day? Try it. We stand behind every package of Senorec with a money-back guarantee.

Very truly yours,

SENOREC, CINCINNATI.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence

Over Rheumatism

Discoverer Tells Connellville Drug Store Not to Take a Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Alleviate Completely Rheumatic Pain and Twinges.

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of fruitless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled
from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that purged and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from the system.

It freely gave his discovery to those who took it, with the much so called marvelous success. After years of arduous he decided to sufferers every where know about his discovery through the newspaper. Con-nellville Drug store has been appointed agents for Allegheny in this vicinity with the understanding that he will only return the purchase money to it, who state they received no benefit.

FUEL CONSERVATION BOARD IS ORGANIZED FOR WORK IN PENNA.

Policy to Aid Consumers to Obtain Highest Economy
in Use of Fuel.

FULL AUTHORITY GIVEN

To Withhold Coal From Certain Industries if They Refuse to Cooperate With the Board; Surrender to Begin on June 1; Men Composing the Board.

William Potter, fuel administrator for Pennsylvania, has announced the organization of the Fuel Conservation Board, composed of men who are experts in the use of fuel for industrial purposes, to begin work on June 1 on the fuel conservation plan, recently announced by Fuel Administrator Garfield. In his announcement Administrator Potter says:

"The policy of the Administration's Conservation Division will be to aid all industrial consumers of coal to obtain from the steam generating apparatus the maximum production in their industries with a minimum use of coal.

"It is the intention of the Administration to classify on its records all industrial plants according to the data compiled from a questionnaire which will be sent all manufacturers supplemented by expert inspection by representatives of the conservation division.

"The conservation board has endorsed and adopted the questionnaire formulated by the National Administration, under the supervision of David Moffat Myers, consulting engineer of New York City. The questionnaire contains a series of questions, answers to which will indicate the ratio of consumption of coal to the steam utilized.

"Although the administration board is clothed with authority that enables them to arbitrarily withhold coal from certain industries, there is no intention of taking any such action at present. The immediate intent of the board is to say to manufacturers, industries: There is a possibility that your fuel consumption can be reduced at a financial saving to you. We are most anxious to help you affect a saving in fuel. May we be permitted to advise you?

"Twenty plants of the Philadelphia industrial district, which extends a radius of 30 miles from City Hall on this side of the Delaware, will be chosen June 1st as the first group to be surveyed in the hope of being able to suggest economies.

"A state advisory engineer, with two assistants, to conduct this work, will be appointed. While several names are under consideration, no one has yet been definitely decided upon as the salaries are not as large as men of the type required, usually command.

"The urgent need of coal conservation in the consumption of fuel in this territory is indicated by the fact that railroads are not now, neither do their managers hold out any hope that they will in the future, be able to deliver larger tonnage than current deliveries of fuel in the manufacturing district east of Altoona, extending to the Atlantic seaboard.

"It, therefore, follows that such extensions as are being made to factories
today, and such additional factories as may be located in this territory, at a later period during the war, must obtain their coal, if at all, at the expense of industries of lesser importance or through the savings effected in the operation of existing plants.

"It is the earnest desire and object of this administration to maintain in operation every factory that can be kept in operation without hindering
the successful prosecution of the war.
It is realized by this administration that to keep every person in employment is an essential social factor.

"The Federal government has laid upon the fuel administrator of Pennsylvania the duty of insuring that such fuel as is used for industrial purposes is used with the utmost possible economy. This duty the administrator will endeavor to fully meet. It is his hope to secure the cooperation of all industrial fuel users in this effort to economize the use of this prime necessary of war. Such cooperation will bring about the end it is the Administration's duty and purpose to attain,
with the least friction and at the earliest day possible.

"This administration extends a cordial invitation to Pennsylvanians for suggestions that may enhance the value of conservation work, so that the measure of efficiency may be held at a high standard.

"The following compose the Fuel
Conservation Board:
C. L. Cole, Philadelphia; Dr. H. S.
Drinker, President Lehigh University,
South Bethlehem, Pa.; P. B. DeSchwe-litz, Lehigh University; H. H. Fernald, University of Pennsylvania; Walton Clark, vice president, United Gas Improvement Company, Philadelphia;
J. C. Spruill, Carnegie Institute, Pittsburg; Reid T. Stewart, University of Pittsburg; Charles P. Turner, president, Engineers Society of Pennsylv-
vania, Harrisburg; M. S. Waitstill, president, Engineers Society of North Eastern Pennsylvania, Scranton; J.
Franklin Stevens, consulting engineer;
M. M. Warren, D. L. & W. R. R. Co., Scranton; Albert C. Wood, consulting engineer, Philadelphia; Chas. C. Burger,
chief engineer, Atlantic Refining Co., Philadelphia; George R. Henderson, Philadelphia.

ONLY IDLE FURNACES ARE A FEW WAITING FOR A SUPPLY OF COKE

Others Are Operating at Full Capacity; No More Are Being Banked.

COKE STOCKING PRACTICE

At Furnace Trade Toward Holding Cans and Stocking Too; Is Not Commanded; Freer Offerings of Coke Expected After July 4, Not Before.

Special to The Weekly Courier

PITTSBURGH, May 29.—Blast furnace operations have increased a trifle in the past week, but there is no material change in this respect. The production of pig iron is at very near the full capacity of the blast furnace industry. A few furnaces are still idle, awaiting coke, but those in operation are with scarcely an exception operating at their full capacity and there are no reports of a single furnace being banked.

It is remarked in the trade that the increase in pig iron production in the past three months has been materially greater than the increase in the coke supply, and the explanation is that the furnaces are now down to their normal consumption of coke per ton of pig iron produced, whereas when they were operating so irregularly, in the first two or three months of the year the coke consumption per ton of pig iron was exceptionally high.

Further light is being sought as to the attitude of the Fuel Administration as to the stocking of coke at blast furnaces. In some quarters it is held that there is a general prohibition against the stocking of any coke, and instances are even related of furnace managers holding loaded cars at furnaces because they considered it a violation of the regulations to unload them, since it would be a process of stocking. The alternative view adopted, however, which in substance represented the stocking of both coke and cars cannot be commended. In general the blast furnace industry feels that whatever the regulations it would not be feasible to stock any large quantities of coke, as there is a loss of coke and a high labor cost, while no large quantity could be stored in any event, and as it would scarcely be needed except in cold weather it would be very difficult to get the coke out in a pinch.

Very little coke is being offered in the open market, despite the fact that furnaces in general are well supplied and there is little if any stocking. The common opinion is that there will be no free offerings after Independence Day. Any excess that might be available in the next few weeks would probably be accumulated as reserves even though the coke would not be regarded as stocked. Coke has always been scarce or less scarce early in July in recent years of extensive celebrations by the men, and as labor has been contracting since the end of the celebration there are likely to be more or less shortages. After that time, however, the effect of so much new by-product coke, especially coming in to the situation, is regarded as certain to have an effect. While the United States Steel Corporation's new by-product operations will not release any Connellsville coke, it will release some railroad capacity and will also release some blast coke workers, though instances of course will be required just the same, to make coal for the by-

COKE TRADE SUMMARY.

Day to day effort to induce the coke workers to maintain a standard work-time schedule has become a steady job for the plant managers hence its unabated continuance is about the only noteworthy feature of operating conditions at this time. Car supply has been ample in fact in excess of the ability of many plants to load out full each day. This is due more to the lapse in the habits of industry on part of the men than lack in number.

Holidays, pay-days, the advent of summer-like weather, big earnings without unusual effort, the draft and other causes are contributing to make it more and more difficult to keep the men on the job. Last week there came the aftermath of a holiday with the usual result that many ovens were lost to production on Monday and some on Tuesday cutting the estimated output down to 340,000 tons a decrease of 170,000 tons. The region is now running along fairly well, the only discordant note being the labor situation.

Furnaces now in blast are receiving coke sufficient for their present needs. The only idle ones are a few that are waiting until coke becomes still more plentiful. Pig iron production has shown marked gains due more to steadier coke supplies. There is no free coke on the market and none is looked for until after the annual slump which follows July Fourth. Some furnaces are storing coke and holding loaded cars as well which practice is not being commended as helpful in the present situation.

product ovens. As indicated in previous reports there is about 100,000 tons a week of additional by-product coke on the way, starting with the Cleveland plant which made its first coke early in the month, and winding up with new plants that should be in full operation by some time in September. The Clairton plant as now being completed comprises ten batteries of 64 ovens or 640 in all. Contracts have just been let for two additional batteries, 128 ovens which will be built as rapidly as possible. The original plans for the plant comprised 20 batteries the first half to be completed before the second half was started. The Jones & Laughlin Steel company has just contracted for 300 by-product ovens to be built in Pittsburgh at the same location that has been marked by its beehive operations for so many years. The company also operates beehive ovens at its new plant at Allegheny, down the Ohio river from Pittsburgh these being two of the most conspicuous cases of beehive coke making away from the coal mines. A merchant interest at Fairmont, W. Va. has contracts for 110 ovens, so that 538 by-product ovens have been contracted for in the past few days all to be completed at the earliest possible time.

What will occur in the coke market in case a real surplus develops remains to be seen. It has been the common experience that when there is the least shortage of coke it is an extremely easy commodity to sell, while when there is the least surplus the shoe is very plainly on the other foot, hence the sharp ups and downs of the coke market has experienced in the past, vastly more pronounced than the fluctuations in pig iron made from coke. At present the market is firm at the set maximum prices, as follows:

Furnace	72-hour selected	$6.00
Foundry	72-hour selected	$7.00
Crushed over 1-inch		$7.50

The pig iron market has been practically steady in the past week, as furnaces are under the necessity of furnishing a maximum supply to the most essential industries. Replies are not all in to the questionnaire the merchant furnaces have sent out to determine what uses their customers intend for the iron they now have on order, and until the whole matter is put in precise and complete form consumers who have not made their claims to iron clear on a war footing are getting very little by way of deliveries. The market is firm at the set maximum prices:

MAY NEED WOMEN

At Mines Labor Commissioner of West Virginia Feels.

In the course of a recent address Samuel B. Montgomery state commissioner of labor for West Virginia, intimated that if the war lasts much longer and the draft upon the mining forces continues it may be necessary to employ women for work about the mines in order to maintain the coal output.

"The draft of mine workers for military service has caused a big coal shortage in the United Kingdom, which should be an impressive lesson for us," said Mr. Montgomery. One hundred and twelve thousand eight hundred and thirty-one miners are subject to draft. About 30,000 have entered some branch of military service. If a much greater number is drawn, or the men do not work regularly it will be necessary to follow the example of Europe and use women at the mines not only in office work but for heavier work on the surface at the tipple and ovens.

STRENUOUS EFFORTS TO IMPROVE FURNACE OPERATION BEING MADE

Every Ton of Steel Produced May be Allocated to War Orders and Industries Helpful in the War.

Special to The Weekly Courier

NEW YORK, May 29.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Report will review the steel and iron trade tomorrow as follows: Mill and furnace operations have increased somewhat and it may be estimated that the iron and steel industry is operating at not less than about 95 per cent of its capacity an operation decidedly better than was hoped for by the great majority in the industry three months ago. The most strenuous efforts are being made to improve conditions still further but of greater importance is the avoidance as far as possible of the slowing down in output that has always occurred in the hot weather. Ten or fifteen per cent curtailment has frequently occurred in July and August and mill managers are studying how much of this may be found avoidable when the need of maximum production is so exceptional. Roughly speaking production is now about 10 per cent in excess of the average output in 1916 and 1917.

The joint committee of representatives of the government and the steel industry appointed May 17 to arrive at a clearer statement of the war needs and the possible supplies is undoubtedly making progress but no definite information is given out and the result of its labors may not be known until the War Industries Board acts upon the information and conclusions reached. This action may possibly be the undertaking of an allocation of every ton of steel, produced by the war orders the commercial industries most helpful in winning the war and the industries less helpful but the preponderance of opinion at present is that this complete allocation will not be undertaken by Washington but that the distribution of steel to less essential industries will be left to the individual action of the various producers. Washington recognizes that they are well equipped for such distribution. Opinion varies as to how much steel is going to be left for commercial purposes when the distribution is ar-
